Dear XXXXXXXX,

Part of me doesn't know what to say. Right now there is a lot up in the air. I want you to know that I am praying for you and your family. I know this is probably an unsettling time and I hope and pray that you will see God's providence in whatever happens out of all of this.

XXXXXXX, it was a tremendous honor to be there as you and XXXXXXXX renewed your vows. I pray that God has strengthened your marriage to be able to face this time together. I hope, too, that you felt additional support with having XXXXXXXX help out this year. I felt like we were still able to connect throughout the year, although it would have been nice to get together for a meal or two with yourself or our families.

I appreciated getting to meet your mother and father this year, it is tremendous the support you have in them.

If you have any feedback, too, for me on XXXXXXXX or the chaplaincy to the team and reserves, please let me know. We always want to know how we can serve better.

XXXXXXX have a good offseason. I hope that things get sorted here at the club or that God opens a new and better door for you and your family. Whatever He chooses to do, know that I am here to serve you and your family for years to come. God bless you. Have a great Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Blessings,

Rev. Brad Kenney
